OHIO VICTIM RIGHTS REQUEST FORM

As a victim of a crime, you have constitutionally protected rights. Some rights are automatic.

SOME RIGHTS REQUIRE YOUR REQUEST.

This form provides important information about your rights. This form is NOT a public record. If you are a victim of an offense of violence or sexually oriented offense, or protection order violation, law enforcement will review this form with you and ask you to complete this form so that criminal justice officials know which rights you wish to exercise. Law enforcement will provide you a copy of the completed form. These rights also apply to victims of all other criminal offenses. Law enforcement will provide victims of all other offenses information on how to access the form online or provide a printed form, upon your request.

REQUESTING & ENFORCING YOUR RIGHTS

- Page two of this form provides a list of rights that must be requested if you wish to exercise them. It is your choice. You can choose to exercise all, some or none of your rights.
 - * PLEASE NOTE: If you are a victim of a violation of a protection order, an offense of violence or a sexually oriented offense and you do not complete the form or request your rights at first contact with law enforcement, you will be automatically opted in to all "upon request" rights until you opt out of your rights or are contacted by the prosecutor. Once contacted by a prosecutor, you will no longer be opted in and you must request your rights in order to exercise them.
- You can change your mind at any time about which rights you choose to exercise. However, if you choose not to exercise your rights and then request them later, you may give up some rights that only apply during certain stages of the case.
- If you changed your mind, you must call, email or complete a new form and return it to the investigating officer, prosecutor, court, prison, jail or community based correctional facility to ensure officials have updated information on the rights you wish to exercise and updated contact information. You can obtain another Victims' Rights Request Form at ocvjc.org or by calling 614-848.8500.
- If any of your rights are denied, you may ask the advocate or prosecutor to help, seek enforcement on your own, hire an attorney, or request free legal assistance from Ohio Crime Victim Justice Center at <https://www.ocvjc.org/request-for-assistance> or call 614-848-8500.
- An online source to help you understand and exercise all of your rights is the Victims' Rights Toolkit, <https://www.ocvjc.org/victims-rights-toolkit>

APPOINTING A VICTIM REPRESENTATIVE

- You may choose to exercise your rights and/or choose a representative to exercise your rights. A representative can be anyone other than the Defendant. You can choose, change, or remove a representative at any time.
- You have the right to hire an attorney to represent you in court.
- A victim advocate is a person who will support and assist you with the court proceedings.

PRIVACY AND SAFETY

- You may be eligible for a protection order. The investigating officer will provide available resources to assist with obtaining a protection order.
- You may use the form on last page to request redactions (removal) of your name, address, and identifying information from public records related to this case. This request does not apply to crash reports submitted to the Ohio Department of Public Safety. You must send a separate request with the pertinent information on your crash (name, date, location) to the Ohio Department of Public Safety to request redaction of crash reports found at https://publicsafety.ohio.gov/what-we-do/crash-reports/crash_report by emailing traffstats@dps.ohio.gov or calling (614) 466-3536.
- You may be able to keep your address private by obtaining a Safe at Home address. Learn more at www.safeathomeohio.gov or call 614-995-2255.
- If the defendant, defendant's attorney, or anyone else is acting on behalf of the defendant contacts you to talk with you, request an interview, or attempt to obtain any information or materials from you, you have the right to refuse. Immediately contact the prosecutor to let them know you have been contacted. You may also contact <https://www.ocvjc.org/request-for-assistance> or call 614-848-8500.
- You can receive texts, calls, or emails to receive notification of a defendant or offender's release or escape from jail or prison. Register at: <https://www.vinelink.com/#state-selection>

ARRAIGNMENT

- Arraignment is a hearing that can happen within a couple days after the defendant is charged with a crime.
- During an arraignment, the judge decides whether to release the defendant on bond or not, determines bond conditions, and whether or not to issue a protection order or a no contact order.
- If you request notification, law enforcement will notify you of the arrest of the defendant and can provide you a phone number for the clerk of court to get information on the date, time, and location of the arraignment proceeding.
- You have the right to attend the arraignment and tell the judge about any safety concerns and your opinion regarding release, bond conditions, and whether or not you would like a protection order.

COMPENSATION AND RESTITUTION

- Crime Victim Compensation Fund: You may be eligible to apply for reimbursement for certain financial losses relating to your victimization, even if the suspect has not been arrested or convicted. You may apply at: <https://www.ohioattorneygeneral.gov/individuals-and-families/victims/apply-for-victims-compensation> or call 1-800-582-2877.
- Restitution: Upon conviction, the court must order the offender to pay you for certain financial losses relating to your victimization. It is important to keep a record of all expenses incurred as a result of the crime so that the court can use this information to determine what costs are properly included in an order of restitution. <https://www.supremecourt.ohio.gov/docs/JCS/courtSvcs/MarsysLaw/SCO-CSD-0002.pdf>
- Pain and suffering is not part of restitution and the criminal court cannot order it. This can be done by filing a civil suit.
